First Virginia Community Bank Promotes Michael G. Nassy to Chief Credit Officer

FAIRFAX, Va. (January 24, 2013) — First Virginia Community Bank (FVCbank), a state-chartered bank with offices in Arlington, Fairfax, Manassas and Reston, Va., has promoted Michael G. Nassy to senior vice president, chief credit officer from senior credit officer. He is responsible for the safety and soundness of the bank's loan portfolio and supporting its managed growth.

Nassy joined FVCbank in September 2012 with more than 12 years of experience in commercial lending and commercial real estate. He was previously with City First Bank of DC and, prior to that, NCB, FSB.

Nassy currently serves on the board of directors of N Street Village, Inc., and on the advisory board of the Department of Finance at Howard University School of Business. He is active with American Bankers Association and the Risk Management Association.

A resident of Waldorf, Md., Nassy holds a Bachelor of Science degree in management from St. John's University.

About First Virginia Community Bank

First Virginia Community Bank is a state-chartered bank serving small and mid-sized businesses and personal banking customers in Northern Virginia. Locally owned and managed, it's based in Fairfax, Va. and has additional full-service offices in Arlington, Manassas and Reston.

FVCbank had record earnings for 2011, with $2 million in total income, an increase of 147.1%, or $1.191 million, over 2010.

FVCbank opened for business in November 2007, just 11 months after raising $23.0 million in capital. Growing at a brisk pace, it raised $6.3 million in a second private stock offering in the fall of 2010, and completed a third private stock offering in December 2011, raising an additional $6.7 million. It opened a Manassas office in July 2008, a Reston office in June 2011 and an Arlington office in October 2012.
